When moving out, the complete furnishings have to be proved in an examination by means of a directory. If a tenant or the living group is not able to make the necessary proof, the Studentenwerk is entitled to allocate these costs among the members of the living group. Damages of any kind must be reported to the student management administration or the caretaker immediately. All rooms, shared kitchens and apartments are fully furnished. The tenant will be charged with the costs if he or she is not able to prove that he or she is not responsible for this default.

Removing and recovering the damage shall be charged to the tenant except if he or she has not culpably caused any damage (and he or she has to prove it).

A normal level as far as the number of plant pots is concerned should not be exceeded. Tenants shall ventilate and heat all rented rooms adequately and regularly according to the outside temperature.

11. Noise protection and disorderly conduct

Residents are required to refrain from any action that disturbs an orderly and peaceful community life, especially making any kind of noise, loud using of sound systems of all kind, or slamming of doors. 13. Fire safety and fire protection

a) When the tenant moves in, he or she must familiarize himself or herself with the house-specific fire and emergency alarm facilities to prevent or act in a probable emergency case.

b) Intentional misuse of the alarm, smoke detection and fire alarm system results irrevocably in the immediate termination of the tenancy without warning.

Doors that mark fire sections in the corridors will lock automatically in case of emergency. The doors in the staircases must be always be closed to ensure that the ventilation system (called SÜLA, if there is any) works in the event of a fire. Please do consult the escape and rescue plans on the floors regarding what to do in case of an alarm.

c) If the alarm sounds, assume that you are dealing with a genuine fire alarm. Leave the building as quickly as possible. For technical reasons, do use the stairs and never the lift (if available). If the lift doors open in a burning floor, the smoke will de-activate the light barrier of the doors. Consequently, the doors do no longer close and the user of the lift is forced to reach the next staircase in the burning floor. Now you are in mortal danger.

d) Triggering the fire alarm system in the house does not automatically alert the fire brigade. In case of a fire, the person who has detected the fire or the closest possible person must call the emergency fire brigade number 112 by telephone.

e) For safety reasons, easily flammable substances must not be stored in the residential or communal areas.

f) Open flames are strictly prohibited in the residential units of the Studentenwerk Giessen. Barbecuing is only permitted in compliance with the fire protection regulations, and only in the outdoor area at places where the caretaker has allowed it. Barbecuing is not permitted on the balconies of the buildings, on platforms, landings and similar areas near to the building.

Corridors and staircases are escape and emergency routes.

If any objects are placed in the dormitories blocking open spaces, causing obstacles, affecting the safety of the residents, or are not placed according to their intended purpose, the landlord shall be entitled to remove them without prior notice. In order to get the objects back, the tenants will be charged a service fee. If, within a period of three months the respective owner does not contact the landlord, the Studentenwerk may assume that he or she has given up ownership of these things and the landlord will utilize and recover them at his own discretion.

The building control authority has prescribed all parking spaces and these have to be used only for such purpose. Motor vehicles which are parked on the spaces without a registration plate or which are illegally parked on the premises of the residential unit, shall be regarded as abandoned. In this case, the Studentenwerk will engage a towing company, which removes the vehicle at the expense of the owner or keeper. The same shall apply for parked motor vehicles hindering the traffic.

Owners of not registered motor vehicles for example during wintertime or for other reasons may apply to the student residence administration to get a parking space. In justified cases, the Studentenwerk will give a permission for temporary parking.
